

1989 1996 2008 2010 2012
New Dots to Connect
January 06 2009

The Reality of "Special Years"

Ever since 1989 when my ECPI training coalesced to see how to get electricity from lightning I have been very slowly coming to understand that 1989 was some kind of special year. I have tried to ignore it as I did not want people confusing any insights I may have (like 1996) as having any source other than God. Now that more time has passed -my documents filled with witnessing- we can set that fear aside and take an honest look at some special years:

The Exxon Valdez oil spill was over 11 million gallons but in the TV News reporter's words it was not so bad as all that because sun heat evaporated from 4-5 million gallons. How shallow the reporters were because that airborne crude oil mass wafted via air currents over to the NH-Northeast where I was making deliveries on my new high-paying driving job. As I've written elsewhere my thyroid gland was inherited from the WV Beggs side of the genetic tree so I was already being poisoned into a 24/7 mental fog by that. Crude oil pushed that blood poisoning over the proverbial wall for which btw I have never been compensated and never will by Exxon any more than dead Alaskan crabs.

That was March 27 1989, by crude oil crossed up into having a very bad accident very nearly erased me. I have noticed recently this past year a number of other significant 1989 events and even some movies (one a movie that showed passenger planes used to attack buildings). I cannot recall them all so you can Google it as you wish or take my word for it and keep reading as it gets better.

The bottom line is that a lot of "seeds" got planted in 1989 not the least of which set me on course to become the CloudSeeder raining inventions and ideas on a Noah-like (rainless) drought-plagued world God appears to some has forgot but had not because He was raising prophets to tell hope to people.

Let's Look at the Numbers Now

Look closely at 1-9-8-9. Number 8 is 2 cubed: take that 3, square it to get 9 for a perfect cube of 2 with two perfect squares of 3 to each side, plus 1 to anything is still 1. 1989 has a right to be closely watched in hindsight for the seeds that got planted that year. I was only one of them albeit planted into the asphalt as I was. A lot of history that has happened since 1989 was set on a pre-course to happen ahead of time in 1989. Battle lines were drawn, such as the oil companies working against the environment; George Bush starting to think about running for President where he would add to that ruin?

I began noticing numbers in 2006 when I wrote a web page about "the sky falling" except it was not the sky falling but a hypothesis that the planet could have swallowed up previous civilizations by rising up doing a "pond inversion flip" of solid Earth mantle ground acting as temperature-inverting Fall pond fluid. I felt inspired to write that information on June 06: 06/06/2006 you see.

Last year had an astounding number came up: 08/08/2008 which I understood ahead of time was coming as of June 26 2008 so I suppose that could be considered "true prophecy" 45 days in advance. So sometimes I have been "ahead of the 8 ball" and other times not; both a valid type of prophecy. Is having these insights -there have been others bottom of this page- just me working alone or am I just a pawn on the board? Well friends, if I was any level above pawn I would grant myself some money so I could work on my gravity wheel. Standing in a financial ditch I have trouble seeing myself above a pawn.

I might do a lot of patting myself on the back if I was such a big brain as maybe I look to some but am not. I have as much impact on the future as a punching bag. Anything I cause by my ideas or inventions are from an outside source. And I do not mean channeling from dropping into some seance or semi-hypnotic state on a couch. But I am in fact coming close to deciding many of our futures are close to being set in stone by our hand (our decisions who to believe and who to think is parting the Red Sea this time i.e. "the one greater than Moses").

Which one is not me. I await the one I believe is going to divide Rich from Mammon. I show real-time energy much the same as Noah built an ark his neighbors could have copied.

Do not believe God is working through me is fine. It took me 16 years and several Imitation Energy engine systems to accept it as inspiration myself and then not easily. But there is an intelligence helping me that Who is wanting people to find the valuable rules of a higher level of goodness to live by, so why not call "it" God? Especially since I have lived a life of so many accidents and illnesses that several times got me dead yet it kept picking me back up from stuff that killed many others to do this work apparently no one else was to do?

Any ego I have is an ego towards God certainly not towards me. Let's continue on to the year 2010 keeping in mind that whatever happens and whatever Good or Evil we do during 2009 will determine what happens to us in that year => 20-10 (Twenty-Ten) is significant by both being divisible by 10, somewhat a mirrored-backwards number perhaps to mean it has not been decided but like a teeter-totter is poised to go either way according to our decisions. But what about 20-12? Whew. 2012 has never scared me before last night because my conscience is right towards God.

Last night I opened my eyes wide from what came to me, a vision on my bed as I awoke and yes people, I now join your ranks => Riley is also scared and trembling: 2-01-2 is two back-to-back 2's separated by 01, which many Math-minded people quickly recognize as Base 2, the Binary Numbers 0 & 1.

The Base 2 numbers surrounded by the number 2 as if locked & sealed.

My numerology-untrained and astrology-ignorant inner self tells me 2012 is a Final Number: the year we finally know the Fate of Everything when every environmental, religious, Har-mageddon+EndTimes+LastDays question gets "wrapped up" some time during 2012's 365 days.

I release this info believing it to be proper for me to do so based on a number of Bible verses. Jesus said no one will know the "day or the hour" but nobody said not knowing the year. Once Jesus was reading in the temple saying his job was to "proclaim the acceptable year". In the Bible that I accept as being God's Word it promises us He would take no action towards this world "without first revealing his confidential matter through his servants the prophets".

This document is the word of years I have had. God will bless all Truth Seekers according to their heart condition, whether they show their love of His Kingdom way by learning and following it or by choosing to remain driving down Satan's highway the accelerator pedal mashed. We can build new towers extolling the Ancients and our genius Science or choose to build engines plus ourselves as personal towers that magnify Him. The limb is extra narrow now.

The Greatest Conflict of our Time: identifying the intelligence speaking to the religious as being a spirit of God or Satan.

There appears to be others out here hearing unspoken messages and sensing the closeness of "The End" so you are faced with a confusing dilemma which door to choose is the right door ~the same dilemma we have failed to resolve for two milleniums. Jesus said false teachers would arise, Paul his apostle wrote how wolves would enter the flock, and John wrote of whole false organizations gone international => "sitting on many waters".

My suggestion for the answer is to remember when Jesus commanded the demons come out of the man they screamed to him "What have we to do with you son of God? Have you come against us before the appointed time?" thus telling us that the Devil and the demons possess knowledge above ours giving them #1 an advantage of being able to mimic the correct door to confuse those not strongly grounded in the Bible and also #2 in essence telling us there will be a right door provided like Noah at a preappointed time!

So the bottom line is: the demons are feeding information and insights that pass many people's muster sounding like they are of God to copycats in a desperate attempt to blur the identity of the ones you should listen to? In my opinion, yes. Base 2 is Off & On <> No and Yes. They knew. Jesus said let your No mean no and your Yes mean yes. How much more do you need? They were all pointing to a great future number. 2012 fits that bill, a message in a time bottle with warning label 01 time's up.

Which religion's members are limb walkers? Which Bible Witness do you know who always testifies God is the Author of the Universe? Maybe we have 36 months left to make our best decision; maybe not. Not even the son of God knows, but he would if he had rejoined into a Trinity plus he would have then revealed 2012 to the Pope not a JW; and whichever people you see lugging the heaviest book bags with literature to help people learn the Bible's happy message would be the rather 1st logical choice also hmm likely the correct one. Cliche it is also true: trust your observations; it works for scientists.

God bless you during the times of misleading plenty or poverty ahead.
Disclaimer: I have released this information of my own accord.