

December 10 2008 => Cloudseeder Project.
Human extinction makes great TV dinner topic.
Fear of extinction! Are earth societies vanishing?
This pdf addresses a new fear of us vanishing away
the same as it once happened to previous civilizations after achieving space travel they seem to have vanished
why we keep playing around with propulsion that cannot re:
~~~~ propulsion systems are not star travel capable systems.
For that you need a brand new lightning engine 440 thunderbird.
The

Facts of Life:

Previous civilizations were smarter.

Previous civilizations mastered air flight.

Previous civilizations traveled in Outer Space.

Previous civilizations left secure records in stone so hard the rain did not erase them & since those are the hard facts, what are our chances today of us not going extinct with them?

Stone cold fact: Smart civilizations disappeared & left the building forever. This document will not be short but those and other questions will be answered.

Shape of these

paragraphs too much for ya? It worked for the EGYPTIANS.

Heiroglyphics, word pictures, design of a thunderbird (Mayans?).

You have likely seen the ancient cave drawings and 100-ton rocks left on islands by previous civilizations, landing strips as if the tribespeople had flight and flying craft... drawings of airplanes from 2,000 years ago. I have not seen such things in person but YouTube oops I mean the museum has them. It occurred to me that perhaps we who once imagined ourselves superior by leaps and bounds and Moon landings that we have to wonder if we have in our knowledge of them not developed a mortal fear of crossing the same thresholds of Science they apparently crossed long ahead of us only to disappear. Whole civilizations vanished to ether after crossing the bridge of knowledge, their scientific achievements along with them; Atlantis, the Mayans.

What did those people do to deserve such a fate? We have several choices of answers and they are all good ones:

1. God did it.
2. Disease of Body
3. Diseases of the Mind
4. Suspicions of neighbor's intentions.
5. Warring amongst themselves & with neighbors.
6. The story of John Henry the steel-driving man who was killed by a stake-driving machine (Fear of Technology).
7. Aliens killed them off, fearing their entry into Outer Space.
8. We did it by melting pot overconsumption & too much destructive {unbridled} freedom (pills, sex: HIV).
9. We did it by failing+refusing to advance beyond polluting petroleum fossil fuel combustion & rocket propulsion.
- 10? God really did it not us whew we're off th hook.

We need to confront these fears, examine them closely, see if we can determine which of them is "the seed" poised most likely to end our civilization like whatever ended those ones before us, keeping always in mind that all of the above are possible reasons now in progress taking us closer to their brink. Some of them I already covered in detail in my last document to go online about the tragedy in Mumbai India: went into detail about a possible mechanics of the resurrection to come (how it could work) plus the very real physical threats of earthquakes and incoming killer meteor showers spraying us with 33,000 mile per hour pieces of rock this link: =>

/mumbai india tragedy pressure cooker prelude to next world war 2014.pdf.

For starters we need to get over this idea how much smarter we are today than those past peoples. See here. They left a record in stones and super hard rock that have lasted a thousand times longer ~over 100,000%~ the time most CD's last. Those old fogey ignorant ancients had the intellect to know that storing stuff in hardened marble and stone would outlast anything they could make of a media storage... partly doing it because they had pride enough in their accomplishments to do the best they could to leave us a history back through Time to know they had done it.

However, I prefer not to think of the record they left as mere acts of pride but rather they were leaving us a message to Beware the Dominoes. But now they are gone, leaving us with a fear and dread and even a lingering scary suspicion towards anyone coming down the pike bearing a new message of great power production as I have done and many others have also tried that does not pollute, and true to form a great many people must fear me just like they always fear any prophet bearing some new truth ESPECIALLY IF IT INCLUDES A MESSAGE OF {ENERGY} PEACE GOOD WILL ENERGY INDEPENDENCE AND HOW TO ATTAIN IT.

And yet on the other side of that $ bill we see some very outrageous scientific experiments being fully funded, such as a Hadron collider that sends millions of atoms plowing into each other head-on at the speed of light. It would seem we fear what is likely to succeed (my engine systems listed on this page) but those that pose the worst of all imagineable threats to the planet are going ahead full steam? Yep. Why? Well, I could say SATAN but a lot of people do not consider that much of an answer. But if not a "real Satan" then we must be Satan.

People who could not believe in an actual Satan are now running into Satan in a mirror. Either way, we get to see a lot of blood on the bathroom floor of our life. Either way we slice it, a real or manufactured Satan is about to kill us all based on the dooms that befell those space traveling early societies before us. Either way leaves us all running in a rather inescapable loop day after day til that day comes as happened to those before us; and then we will be gone, replaced? That is not my belief but many others do believe it; or suspect it enough to fear it. It is that overwhelming fear of following those previous cold dead hand civilizations that is placing a mental block in front of my inventions, not the inventions being wrong. It is just that over-reaching fear that has contributed to people not paying me for some darn good ideas they know they got from me... basically anything I did not nail down with a 16-lb. maul.

Many of my ideas and inventions were purposely allowed into the Internet mainstream to serve as my "letter of introduction" for what I was going to release later, such as this recent page showing the world how easy it is to reduce its collective carbon footprint by 25% each day, each month, each year by adding a heat tape to their home water heater, effectively making the home water heater a much-lowered thermostat setting pre-heater =>

/save400dollarsdoityourself...heatertapeonpipes7...stepscoleparmerelectricsupplyai

Suspicion of my motives has been a plague on me since I began writing in 2003 as if I had walked out of agreeable discussions with Satan himself. I was accused of 1. starting a new religion 2. "trying" to be a "Success" chasing mammon amounts of wealth 3. trying to "be somebody" 4. everything else, none of which was true. I actually just began in 2002 having my mind opened to even more energy possibilities. Feeling that I had been tossed an "Energy football" ~and not having anything else I could do at the time being ill on full disability~ I simply followed the yellow brick road... so here I am enduring eggs being thrown at my work by some very angry possibly jealous people who feel I did not earn the right to solve so many world class energy crises.

I am not Jesus Christ of Nazareth but my experience has been much the same. Jesus had the Pharisees quoting letter of law; Woodrow Riley had engineers quoting immutable laws of thermodynamics even though they do not equally apply to my circularly-replenishing charge-forward solutions. So I view my experience 2,000 years later to be a kind of proof of the Bible's testimony of what all Jesus had to endure, just on a level few people get to experience is all. To have great ideas, showing people how to escape the threat of global warming, cooling, dimming, climate change, is overshadowed in showing how to escape out of this flawed nonstop repeating loop subroutine that always ends in death for advanced civilizations... that today we find ourselves facing perhaps being just as caught in the same rabbit trap those previous failed societies failed to exit their loop also. I showed a way out of the trap?

No; much more than that => many ways out of the trap. But just as Jesus also stated: "you cannot put new wine in old wineskins; they will burst." However there are those out there who understand exactly what I have been blessed by God to do and it is they who are standing in the way, they who are chomping at the bit to steal the ones I have released so far just like the ones earlier by claiming they already did it. It worked before and will work again, they think, except for one problem => I am done with releasing freebies.

His Letter of introduction is complete. It is time for someone else to move on the board. I released what I felt compelled by God's spirit to release in advance of Christ Jesus' return that would alert everyone on Earth to know without a doubt that time has now come as did watching Noah build an ark. That was my job and my job is done. The flow of information that was poured thru me has been a 5-year blessing that God did NOT have to give out but it shows the overwhelming Love and Mercy this God has toward all to give us a fair shake chance to learn His Will and start doing it fast... showing us more than God => a Supreme Friend-God for all eternity we would like to have the company of and dialogue with, His engines warming us during any Ice Ages (something the petroleum oil & natural gas industries cannot tv commercial blitz claims).

So if you still choose to turn down God you are mistaken because you turn down the greatest Friend in Jesus you ever could have had not some remote location half-interested Saviour wanting people to bow on their knees all the time. That's what you turn down plus the offer of a lifetime to be God's friend. I could have withdrawn from the battle I had to endure, the insults, the withholding of medical care, the denunciations of both foes and even friends at times... friends who were not able to understand the big picture of what I was doing, what was given me to do therefore had to be done.

No one would have known.

But God would have known. And I would have been denied entry into that Promised Land too. So I have in my estimation gained a Great Friend by not drawing back from what He wanted done and anyone disrespecting my witness as being anything else but true and choosing to continue heaping insults upon my faithful actions well, they may be in danger. I hope not, but that isn't my department. I was not chosen to be anybody's personal judge and jury.

I just do the writing, which has included many new inventions. New, unless those previous civilizations had them before they bought the hollow points. BTW, why did they? Anybody guess? I would suggest this answer, that the time they had them was too early. Too many Bible prophecies had yet to be fulfilled. So they lacked God's help. But when that time did come, as I believe it has now, God picked the weakest he could find who was able tell you about it.

Me. Is that a grandiose claim of "being special"? No. It is an admission of the truthful statements found in the Bible; for instance, this one at 1 Samuel 2:8 => 2:8 He raises up the poor {lowly one} from the dust and lifts up the needy {that same lowly one} from the ash heap, to make them sit with nobles and inherit the throne of glory. For the pillars of the earth are the Lord's, and He has set the world upon them."

Jehovah God of the Bible has a promise He has made to himself, that whenever he so chooses He reaches over and lifts up the lowest of us and raises us up to be His nobles {ministers showing light}, so if you can turn into a brag my admitting I'm close to being the biggest financial flop on the planet be my guest. But first read my "doctor pages" listed on the pdf list page, find out just how hot the coals under my feet got to bring these messages of Energy, redemption, resurrection and God's Kingdom to you... when I likely could have bought my escape by just shutting up and letting somebody else do it.

It cost my entire family dearly not just me.
But what has all the above cost you?

Would you like to have a car that you could drive out of your driveway and go straight up to the Moon? I know 5 different ways to make it happen but people got in my way to stop me. How about your home? How about living in your own little spacecraft-slash-home? Yep. But if you stay on Earth, how about having your electricity supplied by a turning wheel running silently in a closet... spinning by gravity? Gravity-Home AC current! Does that not appeal to you?

How about no electric bills? Ah, got your attention! You see, scientists have been unable to deliver on promises made 60 years ago but in the short space of time between golden years of 2003 thru 2008 I have been greatly blessed to see how they can all be made. Which brings us to another subject:

Why are people fighting me, holding me down, back? Well, they're caught in the rabbit trap of wealth with ol' Br'er Rabbit (Uncle Remus Tales) but stuck just as surely as Tar Baby were. Oh, they want it alright, so they can charge you and me for it to eternity while they possess and use free theirself and their families alone just as they have self-enriched on petroleum industry products.

I have not yet been given the keys to the kingdom but I do hold (and have warned you the results of not having) the keys to our subroutine life that keeps repeating, the trap that has you and yours squashed up against the wall constantly thinking there's an "Energy Crisis"; that has been false since 1989. Much less so since 2000, 2003, 2005 and 2008 => reciprocating windmill, ingenewow, Millenial Dawn, Gravity Wheel, world water supply + clean power.

The keys to earthly paradise <> God's kingdom blessing on Earth, of all the clean power, all the clean water, all the earthly glory, even a doubled crop yield (or more) that could stop global poverty, malnutrition and starvation. Everything is solved and has been solved for years already albeit much this year alone too: even cancer and deadly issues from anaerobic disease organisms are shown to be largely nutritional lacking-caused diseases.

Admittedly though, let us be realistic. All those problems, even wars, keep the Earth population from exploding upward. And since the people in charge -whoever they are- keep trying to pauper squeeze me so I will tell how to make space travel to Mars in 9 weeks instead of months, without which verification they have to believe I do not have, population control remains their only yardstick.

We have reached the checkmate impasse.

One player has yet to step up and make his move.

That move belongs to him who comes with the legal right =>

Please read this page: http://www.watchtower.org/e/20060715/article\_02.htm

Suits me if it is tomorrow but should it delay it only leaves us

in fear of being the next civilization to go down the toilet

and disappear. Without a real government of God that is exactly what's on tomorrow's docket:

While we squabble over not having enough "resources" claiming we lack inventors. We just don't have the kind of inventors they want: nameless college student automatons working an assembly line for free their professors in Detroit.

We have an inexhaustible supply of such energy resources that never runs out: lightning, air+water, wind, gravity.
They just can't figure out how to charge everybody for it yet

And the last thing they want is people flying to the Moon who are not part of their military.
Yes, that is a screw in your back.
Jesus plans to take it out soon.

I am getting tired of it a bit myself.

Woodrow Riley aka Cloudseeder.
Pray with me for Jesus to hear our cries for relief.
Pray for him to start his kingdom to God's Glory soon.
Pray for this drought to end without us laying dead in the desert as those before us.

Amen brother.

Car fuel that never burns up: www.askinventor.com/pdflistfor2008.htm

*****

The real kicker remains that those previous civilizations discovered space travel too soon & ahead of the Bible's timetable for the Last Days & End Times, as all Bible scholars have known for ages from the Bible's chronological history| prophecy. So is now today December 10 2008 an approved time? No, actually it is not. Those who are preparing to invade Outer Space are planning to take all our strife and sometimes even religious hatred we have yet not settled down here up there. With laser guns and particle cannons blazing death to anyone they decide needs dead. That is why God has been blinding them to my ideas all this long time; like burnished shields their own God-hatred could not see the miracles in my pages I filled with Bible quotes to let God blind them.

If they understand them now we are one step closer to Jesus' Coming.

They aren't fighting me; they are fighting God
just as surely as they took down the American Indians, killing their babies and womenfolk and burning their villages.
They have not learned a thing but they will.
That day comes.